

3 CENT GAS RATE CUT IS ORDERED

Utilities Board Gives Decision For Reduction

Result is Signal Victory for Advocates of Cheaper Costs—Order to Become Effective After August 31 Next—Sliding Scale Explained—Company's Rate of Return Reduced

"I am extremely disappointed at the decision, because I feel that the city of Edmonton had a real case, and it had been well presented," declared Major A. L. Gurney Sutcliffe in discussing the 3-cent reduction in gas rates ordered by the Utilities Board.

"The cities will take the first opportunity to again lay their claims before the board, and I hope they will be successful in getting a just rate for gas," the mayor declared.

The cut will take effect immediately, making a big reduction in the rates, which certainly has not been met by the recent reduction. There can be no any criticism due to those who were responsible in presenting the best case possible, and I hope that all the material facts brought out. The decision is a disappointment, but it will not be a total defeat. Perhaps the next time we will succeed."

Making a general reduction all round of three cents a thousand cubic feet, reducing the rate of return on the investment of the company from 10 per cent, to 9 per cent.; eliminating the 5 cent rate for amortizing the value of the plant, and the 6 cents set aside for the depletion fund for well drilling, and so forth, the company will save on the cost basis as that of the Calgary Gas company, which amortizes the cost of the plant over 30 years instead of 20 years, the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners has handed down its decision in the gas rate inquiry for Edmonton.

The decision, which was issued by Hon. A. A. Carpenter, chairman of the board, is victory for the proponents of cheaper gas. The new rates will come into effect after August 31 next, all meter readings after that date being under the new schedule.

MUSKRAT FARM RULES WILL BE READY AUG. 15

Regulations governing the conduct of muskrat farming in Alberta are to be ready about the middle of next month, according to information received in official circles from Ottawa on Saturday morning. Hon. George Headley, minister of agriculture, who is representing the Canadian delegation at the World Poultry Congress at Ottawa, is conferring with Dominion officials on the subject.

Muskrat farming promises to be most important in the future of the industry in Alberta. Portions of the province and the Dominion government approached several months ago that with adjoining land, would be better suited to muskrat raising than the present area.

Plenty of Land Available
The financial compensation that the provincial government is to receive is not satisfactory. The most desirable land for muskrat breeding areas is in and around the Peace River area.

There is plenty of land available and suitable for agriculture and can be profitably turned into muskrat farms.

Experiments have been made in the Peace River area, the Athabasca River, the Clearwater River, and the Saskatchewan River, but the cost for such an industry is great.

ROYAL PARTY WELCOMED AT QUEBEC PORT

Busy Week Ahead Before Trip to Alberta Ranch Starts

QUEBEC, July 30.—The Prince of Wales, Prince George, and Premier Baldwin were officially welcomed to Canada shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The Prince of Wales, accompanied by his wife, the Seaforth Highlanders' Prince George that of a naval officer, Premier Mackenzie King went aboard the Empress of Australia and accompanied the royal party to the Prince's private to the King's wharf, where they were officially received.

Early morning found the ship moving upstream close to her schedule, and the Prince George, the ancient city replete with expectations, was the first to leave the port.

MORE OFFICERS ARE PROPOSED YANKEES CAN STAY LONGER

Election of one vice-president from each province to the Trans-Canada Association of Canadian tourist may now stay in Canada for another year. It was proposed to be urged in a resolution to be introduced at the meeting of the Trans-Canada Association of Canadian tourist in the Vancouver Hotel, New Westminster and Victoria Roads on Labor Day, all at the Trans-Canada convention opening in this city on August 22.

The resolution reads as follows: "That it be recommended to be a president, secretary-treasurer and one vice-president from each province having affiliations with the congress, vice-presidents as elected to the Trans-Canada Association of Canadian tourist in the provinces they represent, all of whom shall be members of the executive committee of the congress."

The present constitution calls for three vice-presidents. The contention is that these are generally from the same province, and giving the west far representation would be better than electing a vice-president from each province there could be no objection.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 26.—Col. Charles S. Lindbergh, trans-Atlantic aviator, arriving yesterday Friday to attend the annual convention of the Trans-Canada Association of Canadian tourist, Dr. McLean's invitation to speak before the provincial government. If Col. Lindbergh can come to the meeting here Saturday, he will speak to the delegates on aviation.

CROP OUTLOOK NO CAUSE FOR FEELING BLUE

OTTAWA, July 26.—Unrest of wheat will not be general in western Canada before the last week of August, according to the latest available weather conditions, according to the Canadian Bureau of Agriculture, Manitoba Free Press this morning.

During the past 20 days very substantial amounts of rain have fallen over most grain areas and there are no reports of any serious damage to crops in the Districts in Alberta and Saskatchewan, but Manitoba has had rainfall only in excess of normal.

At present the yield of wheat in Manitoba has only to go to 10 bushels per acre to give a good average when compared with the total acreage.

Manitoba Ahead

Manitoba has the largest percentage of wheat fully headed and for the past two weeks has been leading in Manitoba to point reports 100 miles west of Brandon, according to the Bureau.

From the figures given for all the provinces it is reasonable to assume that by the end of the first week in August the crop will be 90 per cent old field here and there, will be fully headed.

Possibly the most outstanding feature of the present condition of cereals grates. In nearly all districts they are reported late in the season, but the statement of the Bureau of Agriculture on the condition of wheat, barley and flax are all much better and heavier crops than 1926.

IS IT SAFE?

Edmonton has 2,658 dogs whose collars are adorned with tags indicating that somebody has paid the $1.00 fine imposed by law. Mystery surrounds the city officials from determining how many more there are for whom no one has assumed that measure of responsibility.

In Calgary dogs have shown the home premises, by order of the city council. When they go about it in pairs or in groups of a dozen or more their jaws have to be clamped together with muzzles.

Different in Edmonton. Here the dog is the place where the family pet eats. At other times he roams the streets and allies at will, sans leash, sans muzzle, runs amuck, and gets into fights with other dogs, chases cats, snags and snaps, pesters, and hopefully enjoys the kind of a dog's life imaginable.

All which is as it should be—from the dog's point of view. But in consideration of the outbreak of rabies in the last city, and the fact that the question of whether it has been taken care of to protect the public, the question rises, Is it altogether safe? And what is going to be the legal position of the city one of these days when somebody is bitten, and appeals to the courts.

WHERE ORDERLINESS PREVAILS

There were any twenty-six accidents reported around the city over the last week-end. That was plenty. But considering the number of cars, the throngs of people about Saturday evening, and the congestion at the close of the day, the record is not bad. And, further, few people were injured seriously, and none killed.

An equally good record was made at the close of the Jubilee celebration. Conditions at that time were even more conducive to mishaps. The congested traffic, Parliament buildings in unrepaired, and in the vicinity were the scenes of the bonfire for streets for blocks were simply packed with the crowds.

And both during the Jubilee and during the fair there was little call for the police, except to direct traffic, which had to be managed, because driving was rare. Indeed, driving was equally rare. On both occasions the crowds were notably orderly and well-behaved. It is doubtful whether there have been violations of law or good manners at any similar gathering of the size in Canada.

One conclusion is that people are accommodating themselves to the traffic conditions introduced by the automobile, that pedestrians are learning to expect miseries of the man at the wheel, and that the drivers are learning to respect the safety of other people must come before all other considerations in the use of the streets.

The other equally gratifying fact is that rowdiness is on the wane and has in fact almost disappeared here. One does not have to go to far many recent records show that the rowdiness of the past small in comparison to those of the present year was an occasion for drunkenness, free fights, pocket picking and wholesale arrests. That era has passed. Nothing can induce more to make Edmonton a decent place to live in than when rowdiness ceases to prevail. And it enhances not only the value of property which fronts on paved streets, but that of all property.

Whatever improves the appearance of a city or better the conditions for doing business in it reacts to the advantage of every one who has a stake in the place. There is no possible question that the improvements will be anyone's supreme desire. What would be as good as to have the city to live in or to do business in if the streets were paved? Or that property in the city would have the same rental or sale value? Or that the city could or could make as favorable an impression on strangers and held out as strong inducement to them to come here to live or to start businesses?

PAVING PAYS

Laying pavement is not an expense to the taxpayer, but an investment which enhances the value of his property as easily as painting the house or making a lawn. And it enhances not only the value of property which fronts on paved streets, but that of all property.

Whatever improves the appearance of a city or better the conditions for doing business in it reacts to the advantage of every one who has a stake in the place. There is no possible question that the improvements will be anyone's supreme desire. What would be as good as to have the city to live in or to do business in if the streets were paved? Or that property in the city would have the same rental or sale value? Or that the city could or could make as favorable an impression on strangers and held out as strong inducement to them to come here to live or to start businesses?

The paving that has been done was not a waste of money, mislaid as a good of the pavement is. It was an investment, from which the property owners in the city and the taxpayers in the city are more than done because of it and it is done at less overhead expense. The opportunity for making a living in the city were enlarged by that improvement, and the conveniences, comforts and pleasure of living in the city were immensely increased.

If it could be put down the paving that has been laid, even where it was put, it would pay still better to pave those streets where paving is really required for the carrying on of business and where it would be a better a better opinion of the entire city.

The hope of building up property values to what they should be lies in enlarging the volume of trade that is done in and through the city, and in thus giving outsiders a real and substantial cause to come to the city. This is the kind of the best capital in industry, and the underpinning of the city to help it to stand.

with systematic perseverance through a course of years.

Surely the intention is not to allow the present season to pass without making a beginning in the long-delayed task of getting the city into shape for participation in the great events it is a condition which would make it safe for use and presentable in appearance.

In the Garden

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Patience and persistence and plod.
In blithe together,
And all the beauty in the box
Or summer weather.

So there comes a twilight fair,
But all he was goes was gold hair.

A colony of martins flew
The setting sun upon the view
With which the sky was bright.
And the golden glow of grace.
But all he was just was her face.

I vain the roses bowed and swayed.
The tender greenery.

The setting sun upon the view
Which lit the scenes of light and shade.

He was the fairest of the fair,
To him the fairest of the fair.

Beauty for eyes must be
O' lovely garden.

For the eyes that failed to see
Grant him your pardon.

Some day he will return to find
That charm to which he now is blind.

Child Athlete

By DR. FRANK CHANE

And now we are threatened with a movement among the school children in favor of Altruism.

A gentleman addressing a congress of parents and teachers called attention to what he termed anti-Chivalry.

The boys are said to be directed by the Society of the Goddess in New York City. It was made up of 100,000 members, and the girls were to be known as the Junior Athletes or Angels of the Devil.

Their claim is that there is no God, that there is no devil, and that the world is run by the most dangerous institution in society. Its objective is to remove all chivalry in the next generation and to teach the boys that there is no God, that there is no devil.

The trouble is that mankind is incurably religious, and the Congress of Parents and Teachers is the first to prove it. In the present time it has persisted in believing in a future life and in a God.

PEACH ARCH AT BLAINE TO BE USED

Pacific Highway to be Re-routed Through Sam Hill's Monument

The Pacific Highway through Blaine has been recognized as that it will eventually pass through the Peace Arch according to word received from Mr. Sam Hill. The Peace Arch is the famous monument of international good will built some years ago by Sam Hill, a Pacific Northwest lumberman who attained considerable fame during the visit of Queen Marie of Romania.

The state highway committee has passed a resolution asking the recommended by the hill people that the highway be re-routed to the right of way.

The route of 10 miles in highway as it now winds through Blaine's power streets. Several continuous segments one hundred feet across along an old paved road west of the city. This is the proposed highway leading north to Chehalis, Wash., and on to New Westminster, B.C. But with British Columbia's new system of roads, there will be that will be six miles shorter to Victoria, B.C., and the road will run along the Great Northern railroad to Washington Avenue and their right-of-way, which will be 10 miles giving only one easy curve.

TRAFFIC LAW UNIFORMITY IS NOW IN SIGHT

The campaign of the Alberta Motor Association to obtain a more uniform system of traffic regulations throughout the province has come to a standstill with the same end being adopted by the American Automobile Association. The surveys made by the thousands this summer are already benefiting the motorist in the City of Edmonton, while uniformity seems to have during the last few months by the motor clubs of the province.

In connection with their fight for the adoption of the more vital traffic laws, the members of the A.A.A. have issued a circular letter to all the provincial and territorial governments asking that they adopt the same uniformity of laws and by-laws with those of the A.A.A. in the near future. Thus Dr. Henry, president of the A.A.A., has succeeded in this connection.

The unsmarshalled views on most vehicle movement held by local authorities in many parts of the country have been dispelled by a much more responsible attitude on the part of the efforts of the A.A.A. The narrow, distorted vision of traffic control by the various authorities gave way in a broad, sane manner to the automobile club's program.

"The credit of municipal officials in the matter of traffic laws is reversed," said Dr. Henry. "They have shown a willingness to listen, to learn, and to be fair and just to the public in the matter of traffic laws. When they were told, as in many cases, that the traffic laws were reactionary and unsatisfactory, they usually gave up their own ideas and suggestions to the suggestion for a change. The real problem in the matter of movement is that which arises from the fact that there are more liberal speed laws, the accompanying free-wheeling parking regulations, free-wheeling driving practices that are generally accepted by the public, and in the case of arrest the traveler is often given a ticket, and where violation of the regulation perhaps was caused by ignorance.

On July 15 Miles.

"Local authorities across the country are reflecting across the needs of signs specifying speed limits, and the A.A.A. has recognized the danger of speed caused by automobile, but when a man drives at a speed of 15 miles an hour for 100 miles he is exposed to a density of traffic almost as great as if he had driven at 30 miles an hour for the same distance. It is to be hoped that every regulation will be designed more safely for the public welfare."

The sign for uniformity of traffic laws is now in sight, and the movement is more equitable and just than ever obtained everywhere, according to Dr. Henry.

Accompanying her son, he has been writing to the various authorities having an opportunity to appear in the movies the winner of the contest will also be awarded a valuable Whippet dog, Laddie, which has been participated in the contest.

EDMONTON, ALBERTA—Alberta's Oldest Newspaper—SATURDAY JULY 30, 1927

THE NEBBS

DADDY, YOU REMEMBER WHEN YOU WAS SHERIFF YOU SAID YOU HAD A TERRIBLE DANGEROUS TIME WITH WILD CAT SMITH...WHAT DID HE DO?

OH YES, WELL, THE WAY I HANDLED PIZEN PETE MADE THE NATIVES BEGIN TO SHOW SOME RESPECT FOR ME.
